The new Nursing Health Professions building is scheduled to open January 2012.

By Gabrielle Lover
Photo Editor

“You’ve got to push yourself,” Dana Canedy told a room full of hopeful mass communication students on March 29. As a Pulitzer Prize winning editor for The New York Times, Canedy gave advice to mass communication students March 29 in Old Main.

Canedy also talked about her book and the article and the book is how she happens in your life you have two

Canedy said that when tragedy happens in your life you have two choices, you can either be positive or negative about it. She said that the article and the book is how she was able to cope and make it through the tragedy for her son.

“Live By.” “No adult has a charmed life,” Canedy said. “If I wrote some fairytale, no one would have been true.”

Canedy said that when tragedy happens in your life you have two choices, you can either be positive or negative about it. She said that the article and the book is how she was able to cope and make it through the tragedy for her son.

Canedy said that when tragedy happens in your life you have two choices, you can either be positive or negative about it. She said that the article and the book is how she was able to cope and make it through the tragedy for her son.

The new Nursing Health Professions building is scheduled to open January 2012.

By Gabrielle Lover
Photo Editor

“You’ve got to push yourself,” Dana Canedy told a room full of hopeful mass communication students on March 29. As a Pulitzer Prize winning editor for The New York Times, Canedy gave advice to mass communication students March 29 in Old Main.

Canedy also talked about her book and the article and the book is how she happens in your life you have two choices, you can either be positive or negative about it. She said that the article and the book is how she was able to cope and make it through the tragedy for her son.

“Live By.” “No adult has a charmed life,” Canedy said. “If I wrote some fairytale, no one would have been true.”

Canedy said that when tragedy happens in your life you have two choices, you can either be positive or negative about it. She said that the article and the book is how she was able to cope and make it through the tragedy for her son.

Canedy said that when tragedy happens in your life you have two choices, you can either be positive or negative about it. She said that the article and the book is how she was able to cope and make it through the tragedy for her son.