Senior running back Travis Daniels led the ground attack with 28 rushes totaling 127 yards and scoring twice, while true freshman Elijah Williams recorded his first career interception as well. Freshman L.J. Stroman paced the defense with eight tackles, while freshman Darcus Elliott registered six tackles and a forced fumble.

“We played a complete game today and it was good to see everyone contribute and that in week seven. We still have some things that we can work on and improve, but I am very proud of how we played and the effort,” said UNCP head coach Pete Shinnick.

UNCP totaled over 500 yards of total offense with a mixture of a ground and air attack to dispose of Charleston on Oct. 15 as the Braves opened their three-game road trip with a 52-14 win over the Golden Eagles.

Sophomore quarterback Luke Charles finished the game with 394 passing yards, five receptions for 108 yards receiving for the Braves. Sophomore Carson-Norman, who had the nation’s 10th-best pass defense, finished the game with 11 different receivers, including a 14-7 halftime lead before both teams added a touchdown in the third quarter. UNCP ran away with it on the road in the fourth quarter, going on a 21-0 run to close out the game.

The game remained close for much of the contest, with the Braves holding a 1-7 halftime lead before both teams added a touchdown down that completed an 85-yard drive.

The Braves would exceed their season-high in passing yards in a game with 394. The previous season-high was 339 against Asheville-Buncombe Technical in the season finale.
