SGA food drive feeds 25 families at Thanksgiving

By Jeremy McLain

The Student Government Association has been working with the cafeteria staff and Sodexo Dining Services to bring changes to the quality of food and overall dining experience within the cafeteria.

During the SGA’s meeting on Nov. 12, Ashley Timmreck, At-Large Senator and Chair of the SGA Food Committee, reported on changes that have been made to the dining hall, including the quality of food and “subtle changes” being made to the cafeteria.

One thing Timmreck credits to the changes was the university’s “Dine-In with the Manager,” which produced such changes as menus being placed next to the tea jars and plates now being put next to the windy areas.

Timmreck is also in talks with Sodexo, which manages the dining hall, to place air curtains within the hall, which she commented “froze” people. “We have a lot of sweet potatoes and canned goods, and everything is going great,” she added.

Timmreck, along with SGA President Hannah Simpson, delivered the canned goods to the local Lumbee Tribal Office on Nov. 26, the day before Thanksgiving. The food was then distributed to 25 local families who had been approved to receive the meals. Among the items they received were a turkey, a pumpkin pie, and a hot meal containing 25 canned goods, sweet potatoes, boxed mashed potatoes, stuffing and gravy. Each family also received a case of soda as well.

In all, more than 600 cans were collected and distributed as a result of the SGA’s “Thankful Hearts” food drive.

The Student Government Association meets at 6 p.m. every Monday in the Union that is open to all students interested are encouraged to attend.

Budget crunch hits campus

By Kayloni Wyatt

UNCP celebrates Coleman’s life

By Kayloni Wyatt

Crime settles down

By Kayloni Wyatt

YOU CAN MAKE A WORLD DIFFERENCE.
NATIONAL CLANDETS SERVICE CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Be a part of a mission that’s larger than all of us. The CIA’s National Clandents Service Career Opportunities offer rewarding, hands-on and high impact challenges in intelligence collection on issues of national security, both at home and abroad. Join us and you will gain a sense of personal pride, professional integrity, strong interpersonal skills, good judgment and oral communication skills. We welcome you to apply and let us demonstrate why we are the number one destination for your career. Are you ready for a challenge?

For more information and to apply visit: https://www.cia.gov

The WOIR THE WORK OF A NATION, THE CENTER OF INTELLIGENCE.

With the fall semester slowly winding down, the crime on campus seems to be following along.

According to e-mail sent by campus police, on Nov. 1 two students were charged with using aggressive language at the football game. They were charged and escorted out of the game.

Also on that day multiple students were charged with being an instigator and trying to gain control of the cafeteria without paying for them. Students have also been entering through the exit doors and not swiping meal cards.

Nov. 6 was a day of violent triggers. Two female students were charged in North Hall and six male students were charged in West Hall. Those were all campus changes.

Murones jumped in a moment of silent reflection after which Dr. Harris said, “Let’s say thank you for everything.”

Dr. Coleman’s professional career spanned and offered hope to students who may feel lost, an innkeeper and trying to keep the books open. The CIA’s National Clandents Service Career Opportunities offer rewarding, hands-on and high impact challenges in intelligence collection on issues of national security, both at home and abroad. Join us and you will gain a sense of personal pride, professional integrity, strong interpersonal skills, good judgment and oral communication skills. We welcome you to apply and let us demonstrate why we are the number one destination for your career. Are you ready for a challenge?

For more information and to apply visit: https://www.cia.gov

The WOIR THE WORK OF A NATION, THE CENTER OF INTELLIGENCE.

With the fall semester slowly winding down, the crime on campus seems to be following along.

According to e-mail sent by campus police, on Nov. 1 two students were charged with using aggressive language at the football game. They were charged and escorted out of the game.

Also on that day multiple students were charged with being an instigator and trying to gain control of the cafeteria without paying for them. Students have also been entering through the exit doors and not swiping meal cards.

Nov. 6 was a day of violent triggers. Two female students were charged in North Hall and six male students were charged in West Hall. Those were all campus changes.

Murones jumped in a moment of silent reflection after which Dr. Harris said, “Let’s say thank you for everything.”

Dr. Coleman’s professional career spanned and offered hope to students who may feel lost, an innkeeper and trying to keep the books open. The CIA’s National Clandents Service Career Opportunities offer rewarding, hands-on and high impact challenges in intelligence collection on issues of national security, both at home and abroad. Join us and you will gain a sense of personal pride, professional integrity, strong interpersonal skills, good judgment and oral communication skills. We welcome you to apply and let us demonstrate why we are the number one destination for your career. Are you ready for a challenge?

For more information and to apply visit: https://www.cia.gov

The WOIR THE WORK OF A NATION, THE CENTER OF INTELLIGENCE.

With the fall semester slowly winding down, the crime on campus seems to be following along.

According to e-mail sent by campus police, on Nov. 1 two students were charged with using aggressive language at the football game. They were charged and escorted out of the game.

Also on that day multiple students were charged with being an instigator and trying to gain control of the cafeteria without paying for them. Students have also been entering through the exit doors and not swiping meal cards.

Nov. 6 was a day of violent triggers. Two female students were charged in North Hall and six male students were charged in West Hall. Those were all campus changes.

Murones jumped in a moment of silent reflection after which Dr. Harris said, “Let’s say thank you for everything.”

Dr. Coleman’s professional career spanned and offered hope to students who may feel lost, an innkeeper and trying to keep the books open. The CIA’s National Clandents Service Career Opportunities offer rewarding, hands-on and high impact challenges in intelligence collection on issues of national security, both at home and abroad. Join us and you will gain a sense of personal pride, professional integrity, strong interpersonal skills, good judgment and oral communication skills. We welcome you to apply and let us demonstrate why we are the number one destination for your career. Are you ready for a challenge?

For more information and to apply visit: https://www.cia.gov

The WOIR THE WORK OF A NATION, THE CENTER OF INTELLIGENCE.

With the fall semester slowly winding down, the crime on campus seems to be following along.

According to e-mail sent by campus police, on Nov. 1 two students were charged with using aggressive language at the football game. They were charged and escorted out of the game.

Also on that day multiple students were charged with being an instigator and trying to gain control of the cafeteria without paying for them. Students have also been entering through the exit doors and not swiping meal cards.

Nov. 6 was a day of violent triggers. Two female students were charged in North Hall and six male students were charged in West Hall. Those were all campus changes.

Murones jumped in a moment of silent reflection after which Dr. Harris said, “Let’s say thank you for everything.”

Dr. Coleman’s professional career spanned and offered hope to students who may feel lost, an innkeeper and trying to keep the books open. The CIA’s National Clandents Service Career Opportunities offer rewarding, hands-on and high impact challenges in intelligence collection on issues of national security, both at home and abroad. Join us and you will gain a sense of personal pride, professional integrity, strong interpersonal skills, good judgment and oral communication skills. We welcome you to apply and let us demonstrate why we are the number one destination for your career. Are you ready for a challenge?

For more information and to apply visit: https://www.cia.gov

The WOIR THE WORK OF A NATION, THE CENTER OF INTELLIGENCE.