By Matt Smith
Sport Editor

The Black and Gold men’s basketball team announced Nov. 19 that head coach Ben Miller’s 2008-2009 recruiting efforts would add a landmark to the program.

The Ladies, 6-4 forward from Concord, N.C., averaged six points and six rebounds for Armstrom Atlantic College of Arts and Design on Nov. 22.

Haskins scored 182 points and 179 rebounds in his high school career and helped to lead the Trojans to a 23-6 overall record in 2007-2008, while taking the team to a 16-2 record in the North Piedmont Conference.

Haskins scored in double figures six times last season for the Trojans and had a career-high 15 points and 11 rebounds against South Rowan on Dec. 4 of last year.

“That is a very athletic and versatile player with huge size and great potential,” said Miller.

“He is a good young man, a great school and a good high school program at Northwest Cabarrus.

“Coach (Dan) Jenkins has an excellent program with his development and we are very excited that he has joined our basketball family,” he said.

By Matt Smith
Sport Editor

Women’s basketball opens with 75-43 win

By Jennifer McLean
Staff Writer

A rebound followed by a 3-pointer by Kristen Hobbs got the Braves out to an early lead, and they never looked back, starting the ‘08-09 season off on a positive note by beating the St. Andrews Knights.

The Lady Braves opened the season 75-43 over the Knights.

The Lady Braves also added to their win streak of 19 games in scoring with 16 points and five rebounds, including two 3-pointers.

Pre-season all-conference selection Natalie Kirby added 11 points and six rebounds.

The Lady Braves held a tight 12-point lead after the first half, going into halftime with a 23-6 advantage.

St. Andrews came out of the half and scored four straight points to cut the 12-point advantage to single digits, but the Lady Braves responded with a remarkable 20-6 run to put them out in front safely for the rest of the game.

For an instant playing time when they stepped onto the Pembroke campus next season.

Later in the week, the Lady Braves enjoyed more recruiting success as Miller inked another forward to the 2008-2009 class.

Miller announced that forward Han Hinson would join the Lady Hawks shortly after Blakeney announced.

Hinson, a 6-4 forward from Concord, N.C., averaged six points and six rebounds for the Northwestern Cabarrus Trojans in his junior season, and he is looking forward to add valuable strength to the Braves’ front line.

Hinson has scored 182 points and 179 rebounds in his high school career and helped to lead the Trojans to a 23-6 overall record in 2007-2008, while taking the team to a 16-2 record in the North Piedmont Conference.

Hinson scored in double figures six times last season for the Trojans and had a career-high 15 points and 11 rebounds against South Rowan on Dec. 4 of last year.

“That is a very athletic and versatile player with huge size and great potential,” said Miller.

“He is a good young man, a great school and a good high school program at Northwest Cabarrus.

“Coach (Dan) Jenkins has an excellent program with his development and we are very excited that he has joined our basketball family,” he said.

By Matt Smith
Sport Editor

The Black and Gold men’s basketball team announced Nov. 19 that head coach Ben Miller’s 2008-2009 recruiting efforts would add a landmark to the program.

The Ladies, 6-4 forward from Concord, N.C., averaged six points and six rebounds for Armstrom Atlantic College of Arts and Design on Nov. 22.

Haskins scored 182 points and 179 rebounds in his high school career and helped to lead the Trojans to a 23-6 overall record in 2007-2008, while taking the team to a 16-2 record in the North Piedmont Conference.

Hinson scored in double figures six times last season for the Trojans and had a career-high 15 points and 11 rebounds against South Rowan on Dec. 4 of last year.

“That is a very athletic and versatile player with huge size and great potential,” said Miller.

“He is a good young man, a great school and a good high school program at Northwest Cabarrus.

“Coach (Dan) Jenkins has an excellent program with his development and we are very excited that he has joined our basketball family,” he said.

By Matt Smith
Sport Editor

Women’s basketball opens with 75-43 win

By Jennifer McLean
Staff Writer

A rebound followed by a 3-pointer by Kristen Hobbs got the Braves out to an early lead, and they never looked back, starting the ‘08-09 season off on a positive note by beating the St. Andrews Knights.

The Lady Braves opened the season 75-43 over the Knights.

The Lady Braves also added to their win streak of 19 games in scoring with 16 points and five rebounds, including two 3-pointers.

Pre-season all-conference selection Natalie Kirby added 11 points and six rebounds.

The Lady Braves held a tight 12-point lead after the first half, going into halftime with a 23-6 advantage.

St. Andrews came out of the half and scored four straight points to cut the 12-point advantage to single digits, but the Lady Braves responded with a remarkable 20-6 run to put them out in front safely for the rest of the game.

For an instant playing time when they stepped onto the Pembroke campus next season.

Later in the week, the Lady Braves enjoyed more recruiting success as Miller inked another forward to the 2008-2009 class.

Miller announced that forward Han Hinson would join the Lady Hawks shortly after Blakeney announced.

Hinson, a 6-4 forward from Concord, N.C., averaged six points and six rebounds for the Northwestern Cabarrus Trojans in his junior season, and he is looking forward to add valuable strength to the Braves’ front line.

Hinson has scored 182 points and 179 rebounds in his high school career and helped to lead the Trojans to a 23-6 overall record in 2007-2008, while taking the team to a 16-2 record in the North Piedmont Conference.

Hinson scored in double figures six times last season for the Trojans and had a career-high 15 points and 11 rebounds against South Rowan on Dec. 4 of last year.

“That is a very athletic and versatile player with huge size and great potential,” said Miller.

“He is a good young man, a great school and a good high school program at Northwest Cabarrus.

“Coach (Dan) Jenkins has an excellent program with his development and we are very excited that he has joined our basketball family,” he said.

By Matt Smith
Sport Editor

Women’s basketball opens with 75-43 win

By Jennifer McLean
Staff Writer

A rebound followed by a 3-pointer by Kristen Hobbs got the Braves out to an early lead, and they never looked back, starting the ‘08-09 season off on a positive note by beating the St. Andrews Knights.

The Lady Braves opened the season 75-43 over the Knights.

The Lady Braves also added to their win streak of 19 games in scoring with 16 points and five rebounds, including two 3-pointers.

Pre-season all-conference selection Natalie Kirby added 11 points and six rebounds.

The Lady Braves held a tight 12-point lead after the first half, going into halftime with a 23-6 advantage.

St. Andrews came out of the half and scored four straight points to cut the 12-point advantage to single digits, but the Lady Braves responded with a remarkable 20-6 run to put them out in front safely for the rest of the game.

For an instant playing time when they stepped onto the Pembroke campus next season.

Later in the week, the Lady Braves enjoyed more recruiting success as Miller inked another forward to the 2008-2009 class.

Miller announced that forward Han Hinson would join the Lady Hawks shortly after Blakeney announced.

Hinson, a 6-4 forward from Concord, N.C., averaged six points and six rebounds for the Northwestern Cabarrus Trojans in his junior season, and he is looking forward to add valuable strength to the Braves’ front line.

Hinson has scored 182 points and 179 rebounds in his high school career and helped to lead the Trojans to a 23-6 overall record in 2007-2008, while taking the team to a 16-2 record in the North Piedmont Conference.

Hinson scored in double figures six times last season for the Trojans and had a career-high 15 points and 11 rebounds against South Rowan on Dec. 4 of last year.

“That is a very athletic and versatile player with huge size and great potential,” said Miller.

“He is a good young man, a great school and a good high school program at Northwest Cabarrus.

“Coach (Dan) Jenkins has an excellent program with his development and we are very excited that he has joined our basketball family,” he said.