A pair of runs in each of the last two innings pushed UNCP past the Cobras 8-4 on March 24 at Sammy Fox Field. Junior right-handed pitcher Jake Dailey continued to excel on the mound for the Braves after a rough start. Dailey, who registered his third win of the season, captured the pitcher's mound for seven innings. He struck out five and allowed only six hits against Coker.

The second inning saw plenty of action from both teams as the first seven runs were recorded in the frame. Coker lit up the board first as the top of the second with a 3-RBI homer from Elisa Logeman, his first of the season. The Braves quickly answered with a run to space in the bottom half. Junior Coker was the first to reach home-plate off of a single mid-field from Kyle Adair. Coker was followed by Seth Kivett as a ball missed the hands of Jesse Blanchett Alex Pearce and Josh Haley each had a run that took UNCP to a 4-3 lead. The Cobras went for a short rally in the top of the sixth. Kevin Schlang led off with a single from a base and knocked in a run. A few batters down the roster was Trevor Bostick who followed with a double to the left-centerfield and allowed Schlang to score.
